

Leading Hand, NSW

Veolia Water Network Services is a global company specialising in the repair, maintenance, rehabilitation and construction of pipeline networks.

Due to expanding new work, we are seeking a Leading Hand commencing in January 2010. Working with a Supervisor and Project Manager, you will be able to lead a small team of skilled labourers to deliver projects on time and on budget.

Ideally you will be well acquainted with most aspects of the water pipeline services including:

- pipe lining
- pipeline robotics
- pipe laying
- drain cleaning
- CCTV
- pipe bursting
- plumbing
- civil excavations

This position involves travel interstate for up to several weeks at a time. A healthy travel policy is in place to ensure your safety and comfort while away. Applicants must have the inclination and ability to work in country Australia when required.

In addition to relevant work experience and a track record of reliability, you will have the following current licences/tickets:

- HR or MR license
- Confined space ticket
- OHS construction induction card
